Dropbox Team,

I can't thank the team at Dropbox enough—the Year of Dash event & Jessica Day, you and your team absolutely killed it!

To all my fellow creatives and "Dropboxers" I had the pleasure of meeting, it was so inspirational to sit and talk with all of you. I look forward to the collaborations that will come from this incredible meeting of the minds.

(I'm sure I'm missing some tags as so many people were part of this awesome event, but special thanks to Lindsay Broermann & Matthew Braga Joyce (Chan) Hwang.)

I want to thank Jessica Day and the incredible team at Dropbox for having me and some of the fellow Champions at their HQ and Studio for their Year of Dash celebration! I had a blast reconnecting with some familiar faces, making some new friends, and knowing Dropbox team will continue to help make Embassy: Interactive, LLC the powerhouse it's destined to be. Thank you all again!

A little late posting this... but I'm still thinking about my trip to San Francisco last month for the Dropbox Champions gathering and conversations around Dropbox Dash. Some experiences take time to fully land... and this was one of them.

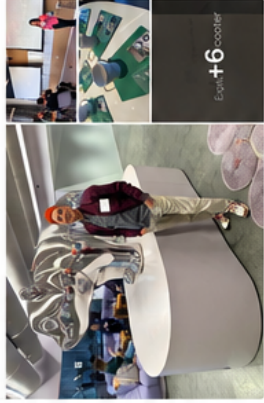

What stood out most wasn't just the momentum behind Dash AI, but the people behind it. Huge credit to Jessica Day for orchestrating such a thoughtful, welcoming, and genuinely impactful experience.

Spending time with leaders like David Stafford and Eric Schuchman, along with fellow Champions and the broader Dropbox team like Tierney Dodge reinforced something I deeply respect about Dropbox: a culture that truly listens, values real-world input, and builds with its community, not just for it.

The conversations were honest, curious, and energizing, the kind that stick with you long after the trip is over. It's rare to see that level of openness and care scale so well, and it's exactly why the Champions program matters.

Ending the year on a very high note. 🚀 Huge thanks to Dropbox for the opportunity to be part of the Year of Dash celebration and leadership sessions in San Francisco. Rare access, real connection, and a powerful example of how Dropbox shows up for its core customers. Honored to film a testimonial and represent the Friends of Dropbox community—one of my highlights of 2025. Big thanks to Joyce (Chan) Hwang, Jessica Day, Mariah Lincoln, Kate Hueter, Tierney Dodge. Onward to 2026!

Thank you Dropbox for the headshots and the meetup at the end of last year in San Francisco to talk to your power users aka "Champions".

While many companies keep plowing away building things their customers don't want or need in silos with "know it alls", they're listening and building an AI Operating System - DASH - that is altering how we work, build and scale.

Couldn't build and run 5 companies simultaneously without you. 🙌

What an amazing experience at the Dropbox Champions Year of Dash event in San Francisco!

A huge thank you to Jessica Day for orchestrating such a well-organized, insightful, and action-packed day.

It was fantastic reconnecting with Joyce (Chan) Hwang and meeting David Stafford, Manik Singh, James Neumann, Tracey Lindsey Chan, and so many fellow Champions. Hearing about their unique Dash journeys and lessons learned was truly inspiring. The exchange of ideas and perspectives left me energized — if even a fraction of these ideas make it into the next evolution of Dash (or the "next next thing"), it's going to be epic!

Special shout-out to Kate Hueter for making the video testimonial process so smooth and stress-free.

Grateful to be part of such a passionate, forward-thinking community. Here's to keeping the momentum going and driving innovation together!

Had an incredible time at the Dropbox Champions event in San Francisco. Connecting, learning, and collaborating in person was truly refreshing. The breakout sessions were especially valuable—great to see how other companies are putting Dash to work in real-world scenarios.

It's inspiring to witness a major software company genuinely listening to its community and driving meaningful innovation with Dropbox Dash AI. A huge thank you to Jessica Day and the entire team for hosting us at Dropbox HQ, and to Manik Singh, Eric Schuchman, David Stafford, Jacob Solomon, and everyone who made time to share, teach, and grow together.

Here's to new and old friends!

Proud to be part of this journey. #DASHIT #DropboxChampions

PS...long live Angry Flannell!
